United Kingdom: High British officials have again expressed concern about US objectives in the proposed arms limitations talks with the Soviet Union.

The British are apprehensive about a number of issues relating to these negotiations, but their principal worry is that the US will not seek an agreement with the USSR which includes a halt to the development of ABM and MIRV forces. The British position seems to be that a settlement which does not freeze the deployment of these weapons systems will be ineffective in stopping the arms race and will be unacceptable to world opinion.

Underlying this stand is London's fear that if the Soviets are permitted to deploy an efficient ABM defense system, the credibility of Britain's nuclear deterrent force will be considerably weakened. The British officials indicated that Prime Minister Wilson may raise these issues with President Nixon when he stops in Great Britain early next month.

Kenya: The government announced on 21 July the arrest of Nahashon Njenga on suspicion of assassinating Tom Mboya.

In 1965, Njenga was arrested for the murder of opposition leader Oginga Odinga's principal adviser, but was never tried. The government may attempt to counteract any charges that it is involved in the assassination of Mboya by implicating the Communists.
